Lost in Austen: Create Your Own Jane Austen Adventure

By Campbell Webster, Emma FICTION Campbell Emma

Bringing together Jane Austen's most beloved characters and storylines, Webster takes a clever, playful, interactive, and highly entertaining approach to the novels in which the reader decides the outcome.

Falkner: A Novel By Shelley, Mary
Wollstonecraft
FICTION Shelley Mary

Falkner is an exceptional book, and a fitting last chapter to Mary Shelley's career. Great writers examine the world around them, and then write about what they see in it, and this is true of Mary Shelley--even at age 19. She made order out of chaos, and found parents where there were none.

Not Quite Dead By Gray, John
FICTION Gray John

Dr. Chivers, who attends Poe after the collapse in 1849 that in real life led to his demise, agrees to help Poe evade his enemies by colluding in a scheme to fake his death. The plot thickens after Devlin slaughters Charles Dickens's U.S. publisher in a manner reminiscent of one of Poe's tales and later kidnaps Dickens, who's on tour in America.

The Sonnet Lover: A Novel By Goodman, Carol
FICTION Goodman Carol

Did Shakespeare pen a series of passionate sonnets, unknown to modern scholarship, ardently praising a mysterious dark-haired beauty? This tantalizing question is raised in a letter to literature professor Rose Asher. But the letter's author, Rose's star pupil, is not telling. A troubled, enigmatic young man, he plunged to his death in front of the college's entire faculty, an apparent suicide. The Sonnet Lover brings to life the Tuscan countryside and the world of the Renaissance poets.
